be cooked at a cost of 5 cents on a gas stove.

Governor Ross and Senator Coke met in the third ward, anti prohibitionists, of course.

Papers for sale at THE EXAMINER, office at 25 cents per hundred or for thousand.

Just received a shipment of delicious Drips in one quart cans, at The election passed off quietly.

Waco sustained her reputation as the most orderly city in the state.

Yesterday was a hot day in more respects than one. The atmosphere thermometer registered 100 at 3 p.m.

Parties thinking of going to Call-eria can get information greatly to their advantage by calling on J. E.
& Co.

The street in front of THE EXAMINER was packed and crowded last night by throngs of people till near midnight.

There are two reports from Crawford, one giving the pro majority, the other an anti majority. The first is incorrect.

All the trouble arose yesterday at the second ward polls but was easily quelled without a blow being struck.

Gas stoves, all styles and prices from $1.25 to $35. Oil and gas testimonial from those using them, at office of Waco Gas company.

The annual meeting of the Farmers State Alliance takes place in Waco August 2. The original date of meeting was August 1st, but owing to the election it was postponed to the 2nd.

Two men, anti and pro, had a fight in the fourth ward. They were total strangers to each other and after the fight it was found that both were republicans.

The press had artists at the polls yesterday. Bart Moore, Luke Moore, George Early and John H. Finks did some of the finest work ever done at a polling place in this city.

Don't be deceived by worthless remedies but get the genuine "Bass" Chicken Cholera Cure. This remedy has saved the chicken risers of Texas thousands of dollars, and is the only reliable remedy.

A procession of ladies turned out yesterday morning in the 5th ward (East Waco) and lined up in front of the polling place, bearing banners and mottos and soon after returned home making little demonstrations.

A quarrel arose yesterday at Robert's store, a voting place in South Waco outside the city limits. Two colored men got into a fight and one struck the other over the head with a baseball. The assailant was arrested.

Now that the season is at hand for Prompt and polite attention paid to all orders and customers. Austin Avenue, Waco, Texas.

At the second ward polls yesterday morning a pro worker said: "We are overpowering the ward." About noon he said: "It's all right." At 3 o'clock he said: "We have got to work," and a little before 6 o'clock he scratched his head and said: "It's a tight scratch." He was right in each case.

It was conceded last night by prohibition leaders that the state has one anti by 87,000 majority. Col. E.
Jones concedes it by 100,000.

own judge. Every one guaranteed.
Buy the Iron Turbine engine and the Buckeye Force pump, and you are sure to be pleased.

A good audience turned out to hear Prof. Black last night. His subject to-night is "The Divine Legend of Moës." By request of a number of citizens he will preach on the lawn of the Waco Female college Sunday night on the "Inspiration of the Bible." Now that the campaign is over let the people turn out to church.

Prickly Ash Bitters is an untiring cure for all diseases originating in biliary derangements caused by the malaria of miasmatic countries. No other medicine now on sale will so effectually remove the disturbing elements, and at the same time tone up the whole system. It is sure and safe in its action.

Mr. Louis Kells left yesterday morning to vote at Fort Worth his home.
He reached the Fort at 7:30 and had to return on the 8:10 train. He cast the first of the votes in Fort Worth, from the fact that the polls in his ward, the first, opened as the clock began to strike eight, while the others opened at the closing of the stroke. And his vote went in before the clock had done striking. He reached Waco at 1 p.m.

Thousands of the Emerson Pianos are in use throughout Texas. They are in the homes of families of limited means, who bought them on easy monthly installments; in the homes of professional men, mechanics and well to do farmers, who desired a reliable and serviceable piano at a moderate price; in the homes of the wealthy, whose position and means enabled them to gain a perfect knowledge of their superior qualities of pure and rich tone, beautiful touch, elegant case, and the combination of all essential qualities, which an instrument for their use should possess.

Colleges, convents and music schools use them, because they require instruments that will stand extraordinary use, and have all the qualities of delicate and powerful tone, suitable alike for practice as well as concert use, and whose mechanism is the least liable to cause annoyance or expense to keep in order.
Music teachers have bought and are constantly buying the Emerson Pianos. Being experienced connoisseurs, they know the advantage of having an instrument which possesses all the requirements of first class piano. A full line kept by Tros-sick & Co., No. 169 South Fourth street, Waco, Texas.

CITY COUNCIL.

The city council last night was occupied with a consideration of the water question. The two following resolutions, both of which were passed, embody the main results of the session:

Resolved, that the mayor be authorized to confer with the Waco Water Co and make such arrangements with said company for the use of the new hydrants erected, as will be equitable to the city and Waco Water Company, such arrangements, if made, to be monthly until further arrangements, action by the city council.

Resolved, that the Waco Water company be and are hereby tendered the initial contract as to all rates, hydrant rental, water supply, etc., and that the mayor be authorized to make said contract with the Waco company's reservoir and an additional standpipe eighty-five feet high, be accepted in lieu of the standpipe as provided for in the Inman contract, and that the hydrants as at present located by said company be accepted instead of the Inman hydrants, and that so much of the pipes now laid that conform to the system of pipes adopted in the Inman contract be accepted, and that the Waco water company be allowed thirty days time to accept the conditions of this contract, after being made satisfactory to both parties."

POLITICAL POINTS.

KENTUCKY ELECTION.

Louisville, Aug. 4.—A very fair idea of the election situation is contained in the estimate of the Courier Journal which says: "Additional returns this morning do not give any indications of a ground swell. Far as may be judged the democratic losses are due to confidence and indifference in the party and the unusually poor organization on the part of the republicans. The latter voted and the democrats stayed at home. Returns are from 56 counties which cast 100 per cent of the whole vote of the state. These 56 counties show a loss from the Cleveland majority of 1,800 of 7,710. If the ratio of gains and losses continues the same for the re-mainding counties the net democratic loss will be 12,870, leaving Buckner a majority over Bradley of 2,000. The republicans are claiming better things than this from mountain counties. If the majority is not as large as the Courier Journal's predictions, the democrats have only themselves to blame."

The Commercial's summary is as follows: 78 counties have reported so far, leaving 41 to report. The average gain per county, from reports so far received, is 325. On the same ratio the net republican gain of whole state will be 8,675. This will leave a majority for Buckner, counting the vote for Knott at 54,400, or 5,725. The gross republican gain so far as heard from is 25,000. Six counties show a democratic gain of 600, leaving a net republican gain of 24,400.

BRADLEY IS A FOOL.

CINCINNATI, August 4.—A Louisville special received here says the news from seventy three counties show a gain of 20,000 for Bradley, the republican candidate for governor.
At that remaining counties which are more strongly republican will probably elect him. If the proportion of the gain hold out probably get 34,000. The democrats have reduced their claim of 80,000 majority for Buckner. Only the official count can remove the present uncertainty. W. G. Bradley, republican candidate for governor says "I am elected governor of Kentucky by 50,000."
